ARMA Canada Essay Contest

ARMA Canada is pleased to announce its annual records and information management (RIM) and information governance (IG) essay contest for graduate students enrolled in graduate Information Management programs at Canadian Universities.

The winning entries will be published in Sagesse: Journal of Canadian Records and Information Management, an ARMA Canada publication. This publication is for practitioners in RIM and IG and available on the ARMA Canada website:

http://armacanada.org/portfolio/sagesse.

Sagesse offers a hybrid approach to RIM and IG by showcasing practical and theoretical articles, scholarly research focusing on Canadian issues, governance, laws, regulations, ethics, history, standards and best practices.

The theme for the contest is: Canadian Issues for Information Management. Examples of essay topics for this theme include: retention & disposition; classification/indexing; standards and their application; change management; technology; case studies; etc..

Contest Rules:

- You must be a graduate student enrolled in a Information Management program at a Canadian University;
- Essays must be received by the ARMA Canada Director of Canadian Content by May 1st each year; email to sagesse@armacanada.org;
- Essays must address the theme Canadian Issues for Information Management and be 10 to 20 pages in length; all sources cited (MLA or Chicago Manual of Style). You are welcome to use an essay submitted for class credit during your academic year;
- All essays are blind reviewed by Sagesse’s editorial committee; authors are responsible for the amending process until the committee accepts the article;
- Once the review process is finalized, the top three articles addressing the theme will be chosen for publication in appear in Sagesse’s next edition;
- If your essay is chosen for publication you will provide a 50-word biography which will be published in Sagesse and a signed author’s agreement.

What’s in it for you?

- The author(s) of the article the committee deems best reflects the theme receives $1000*
- Runner-up articles will also be published with those authors receiving $600* each
- An opportunity to have your work published and recognized

For further inquiries, please contact the ARMA Canada Director of Canadian Content at: sagesse@armacanada.org

* Should more than one author contribute to an article chosen for publication, all share the prize equally.